Adjoining County News.

L. C. Payeur has sold to J. C. Edwards of this city the Main-street two-story brick building now occupied by J. B. Mackrell as a novelty store. Mr. Edwards does not expect to occupy the store room, but bought it merely as an investment. The purchase price was not disclosed.

Rev. J. L. Daniel, new pastor of First Methodist church, and family have arrived and are being given a cordial welcome by the congregation and citizens of the city. Mr. Daniel will conduct his first service at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. At the evening service the congregations of the city will join with the Methodist people in a union service to welcome their new pastor and family.

Brady McManis and Oils Wallace, two young men from East Lancaster who went to Florida about five weeks ago, have returned home sufficiently amused, they say, with the "Land of Flowers." While in Florida they worked at the carpenter's trade, but as things were becoming scarce they decided Lancaster county was the best place for them. The state, they say, is overgrown with tourists and people hunting work, and every way you turn large signs are encountered reading, "No Help Wanted—Till Means You." Barber McManis of Heath Springs, is suffering from a broken nose. In company with two friends, Mr. McManis was returning from Banks Williams in Dry Creek section yesterday afternoon and just after passing Jones Cross Road a car struck a rough place in the road threw Mr. McManis to the top and against one of the cross bars. He fell, the result of his nose was badly fractured and an ugly scar was received under the right eye. Dr. Alter attended Mr. McManis's injuries which are not considered dangerous, though very painful. "The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lucas died at the home in Antioch section Tuesday and the body was buried at Antioch Baptist church the following day at 11 o'clock. A marriage of interest to their friends was that of Miss Iva Hope and Joseph F. Young blood on Wednesday, November 16 both popular young people of York county. The bride is sister to Mrs. W. C. Strait of this city and the groom is a young business man of Clover, where the young couple will make their home. "Ambrose Cross, 70, colored, charged with stealing a Ford car from Romulus Spauld of New Bethel section Tuesday night, is in the Lancaster jail to await trial in the case. Sheriff Hunter, Policeman Joe Byrd and Constable Montgomery went over to McBee Wednesday night and brought Crosby to Lancaster, the negro having just finished a sentence on the public works of Kershaw county for some violation of the law. "Uniforms, guns and other paraphernalia for the Lancaster National Guard has arrived and the members are being given instructions in the manual of arms, drill, etc., on Tuesday and Friday nights. Mackey opera house is being used as a meeting place. The guard is about 60 strong, all study hard and the men who when thoroughly trained will become a valuable asset to the militia of the state and country. Several of the young men of the guard have already had considerable experience in the service of the United States at home and overseas. —Lancaster News.

MARTLET PEOPLE BUY MANY SOUTHERN MILLS

French Broad Manufacturing Company Among Those Under New Ownership.

Asheville, Nov. 23.—Sale of the French Broad Manufacturing company's plant at Owenby, near this city, to the Martlet Mills, Inc., New York, for a consideration of about $300,000, has been completed, officials of the company here announced. Eight other plants in South Carolina, Georgia and Alabama have been bought at the same time by the Martlet Mills, Inc., and the future be operated under the name of the Martlet Mills. T. J. Bagwell, superintendent of the French Broad Manufacturing company's plant here, said today that the new owners would probably take active control of the plant in the near future, but that for the present the plant will continue to operate without changes.

The French Broad plant is engaged in the manufacturing of bed spreads. The plant in stock is said to be about $400,000.

WILL MAKE EFFORT TO UNSEAT KU KLUX SENATOR

Opposition Lines Up Against Mayfield, Senator from Texas. Claiming He is a Ku Klux—Says Democrats Above Means and Means Ends Depend on Catholics of Great Estate.

Washington, Nov. 24.—The forecast that an effort would be made to throw Mayfield, the so-called Ku Klux Klan senator from Texas, out of the senate in another session of congress, is rapidly materializing into fact, according to every indication.

The retirement of Senator Newberry has prompted Republicans who defended him to raise an issue against Mayfield in an effort to ascertain whether Democrats would be as pliant against a Democrat, charged with spending too much money, as they were against Newberry, a Republican.

The charge will be, it is already determined, that Mayfield spent a sum in excess of that allowed "by the law of Texas. Behind this charge, will be Ku Kluxism, it is quietly admitted by interested senators.

It is said here by well posted members of congress tonight that in all probability the fight against Mayfield would be concluded by a verdict that as the independent candidate's name was not permitted to go on the ticket, a fair election was not held in Texas.

It is added that that verdict would eliminate the necessity of the senate discussing the Klan, and would produce the result desired by the people of the North. In this connection, it is pointed out that the Democratic party above the Mason Dixon line depends on the Catholics and the Hispanics to a great extent, these people being opposed by the Klan; and the Republican party can not afford, it is alleged, to offend the negro, who holds the balance of power in some great contest.

The intimation has already come from certain sources in Texas that if Mayfield is thrown out of the senate, he will be readily re-elected.

MEDICAL IMPROVEMENTS.

Much Has Been Done by Medical Doctors to Lengthen Life—And Times and Serum Play Big Part.

When one is thinking about improvements in mechanical inventions, most of the lessening wear and tear on the human race from hard labor, the crane, the elevator, the automobile, along medical lines should not be passed over lightly.

Time was when smallpox epidemics were expected at regular intervals, taking their toll of thousands of lives and leaving in their wake great numbers chronically ill, or permanently disfigured. There was a plague in the history of the United States when typhoid fever killed 100,000 in every 100,000 of the population annually; a day when yellow fever was a scourge in the South.

As late as 1875, dysentery was a dread demon, against which there was no known defense for numberless of the young. In 1900, 300 in every 100,000 of the population, when in epidemic form.

A half century ago malaria was a pest which attacked every locality, without let or hindrance to far as preventive measures were concerned.

Even in 1891, the mortality among babies under one year of age was frightful, and at that time one child in every four born in New York City died during the first year of its existence, and all over the nation it wasn't much better.

Now all this has changed. To sum up conditions today:

In 1921, the death rate from typhoid fever had fallen to two in every 100,000, while smallpox is a most unknown and is in an extremely mild form, where cases do occur. Dysentery now has a mortality of one in every 100,000. Today we need not have a single case of malaria anywhere in the United States. Typhoid and diphtheria are the same thing is now of yellow fever. The death rate among infants shows a marvelous decline, being but 7.1 per 1000 under 1 year, and 24 per 1000 between 1 and 5 years of age.

Intense development along the lines of medicine and surgery has brought about these notable achievements. Purification of the water and food supply is another. The discovery of antitoxins and serum has played a vital part in the present improved health situation. Drainage of swamps, ditches and the same thing of standing pools have practically eliminated the anopheles mosquito the purveyor of malarial poison.

Much credit is due the advances in medical science for the lengthening of life and preservation of health. This credit should not be withheld by a grateful people.

PISTOL IS USED BY JEALOUS WIFE

Taxi Driver and Woman Companion Fired—Spent Bullet Hit Barber.

A Main street throng was startled Thursday afternoon in Greenville when Mrs. M. C. Hunsitt fired a small caliber pistol and fired shot in the direction of an automobile near Main and Coffee streets, in which sat her husband and Miss Fannie Hovis.

The bullet did not strike either of the couple, but went through the back of the automobile, struck the side of a building, ricocheted and struck a barber named Crosby, who was standing at the entrance to his shop. Although the ball hit the man in the head, it had spent its force and he was not injured.

Police arrested Mr. and Mrs. Hunsitt and Miss Hovis, later releasing Mrs. Hunsitt on bond of $125 and the other two on bonds of $25 each. Officers, after talking to Mrs. Hunsitt, declared that the act had been prompted by jealousy because of alleged attentions paid to Miss Hovis by Hunsitt. Hunsitt is a taxi driver.

HUSBAND HIDES DIVORCE DECREE FROM HIS WIFE

Mrs. Elizabeth Kennedy, 65, Learns She is Divorced of Many Years.

Charlotte.—A divorce for several years, but unconscious of the fact was the strange situation, in which Mrs. Elizabeth Kennedy, of 1812 Washington avenue, found herself Wednesday.

Her daughter, Mrs. T. R. Teague, of 1906 Washington avenue, received a letter from her father, a traveling salesman, a few days ago, in which he confessed he had obtained a decree of divorce in Atlanta several years ago, alleging desertion and cruelty. F. J. Kennedy, a Jeweler of 223-1-2 West Trade street, immediately went to Atlanta to consult with lawyers, who examined his affidavits and told him there would be no trouble in having the decree annulled.

Mrs. and Mrs. Kennedy are both 60 years of age and have been happily wedded for 47 years, according to Mrs. Teague, who said Wednesday that she did not think her father was mentally balanced when he received the divorce. Their children expect to bend their efforts to having the decree annulled and reconciling the old couple.

"We were shocked when we heard the news," Mrs. Teague said. "For years they lived happily together. Of course my mother does not want a divorce. She was happy with my father and we want to bring them together again."

HUMANITY'S NERVES.

"As humanity develops, it grows a nervous system."

As the individual body is threaded with fine filaments that carry sensations, so the whole world is growing a system of intercommunicating lines.

These are the telegraph and telephone wires.

Did you ever picture to yourself in some vacant moment of dreaming all the myria dwigs that thread the city? Did you ever conjure up before your meditative eyes the long lines of wires running from your town to all the other towns of the country? They go out over mountains, across plains, and vast deserts, through swamps and forests and they are trembling day and night with the pulsations of thought weaving the common mind of the race into a unity of consciousness.

They cross oceans. A man said the other day that he stood in London and got news from the stock market in New York in six minutes after it opened.

Little by little, this vast network is covering the globe. It will not be many years before the remotest foreign land will be our neighbor.

It is as if this globe were becoming upon its surface a huge spider web.

It brings on the thought of the interdependence of all human beings. Really, you can not sit in your room and think but your very ideas cause some tremblings in Paris, in Turkey or in Argentina.

Whether we like it or want it or not, this humanity shall become one.

Kiss clings for marriageable girls to solve America's divorce problem. are advocated by a noted Parish state beauty who is visiting Chicago. "A woman's whole heart should be put into every kiss she gives her husband," she declared. "A kissable woman will keep any normal man anchored at home. Too many wives think they can hold their husbands through their stomachs. Scientific love is more practicable than domestic violence."

LOCKHART MILL TO EXPAND VILLAGE

One Hundred New Homes Will Be Built There Shortly.

Lockhart, Nov. 20.—Lockhart is soon to have 100 new homes for the accommodation of the employees of the mill. Help is already scarce in some departments of the mill and the directors at a recent meeting decided to make the addition of new homes a double purpose—first, to increase the present working force in the daytime and, second, to make it possible to run all the mill at night instead of only a small part of it as heretofore. It is thought that this will bring a large number of new citizens to town and about 150 new employees.

Since the completion of the power plant has made electricity plentiful, motors have been installed in all parts of the mill and the entire plant is driven by electricity, which gives more satisfaction in every way. Use of waterpower at the mill is now discontinued.

HARRIS CLAIMS PRICES FIXED BY COMBINATION

Washington, Nov. 23.—Senator Harris, democrat, Georgia, announced today he had asked the department of justice and the federal trade commission to investigate reports of a combination of manufacturers to control and fix prices for calcium arsenate, the principal agent used by the cotton growers of the south in fighting the boll weevil.

Senator Harris made his request after having been informed by Secretary Wallace that the department of agriculture was powerless to stop increased prices for calcium arsenate, although fully appreciative of the situation faced by the cotton growers.

In Luck.

"Friend," said Cactus Joe to the stranger in Crimmon Gulch, "you have held four of a kind three times, a royal flush twice and several ace fulls."

"Lucky, I call it!"

"You're luckier than you think. The boys here is willin' to let you had any way into provided you start immediately. There won't be any gun-play unless you linger. The big luck for you is the fact that you happened to play 'em today'."

Going up to the cage, he repeated that word in a clear voice for several minutes, the parrot paying not the slightest attention. At the final "Hello!" the bird opened its eyes, gazed at the man, and snapt out "Lime's busy." The Congregationist (Bojone).

HOW ARE THE CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING ASSOCIATIONS GETTING ON?

The three great "money crops" of North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia are cotton, tobacco, and peanuts. Within the last eighteen months, for the first time in all history, farmers have set up cooperative marketing associations for marketing these products for themselves. These organizations are now at work. Already a large proportion of the farmers in all three states have sold (or are now selling) their 1922 crops through these organizations.

As a servant of the farmers of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia—hereafter, there, nothing more fitting than to report the progress of the movement for the marketing of these products for themselves.

Of course they have had their troubles. Nothing big and important was ever yet born without some pain and some cooperation. The marketing is both big and important. Moreover, even after birth, the period of infancy, both with individuals or organizations, is nearly always one of trouble. It is a common saying that if a mother carried a baby past its "second summer," it is easier going after that—and the marketing of these products is no exception. ## CRIMINAL LAWS ARE FULL OF LOOPHOLES

Governor Harvey Has Very Decisive Opinion in Regard to Recent Parole Decision.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 23.—That the criminal laws of South Carolina are full of loopholes, and that the parole system of the state is now practically obsolete are opinions expressed by Governor Harvey in a statement issued expressing himself for the first time since the supreme court handed down its opinion this week, reversing the governor's parole.

"The decision of the court will tend to emphasize the general opinion that the procedure incident to our criminal laws are sadly in need of revision," the governor says. "The people will unquestionably demand that less loopholes be furnished law violators by means of technicalities and delays, and that law enforcement and cooperative action be quickened by means of legal red tape or court machinery, or ambiguity of terms."

Regarding the supreme court's reversal of its decision in reversing the parole of Grover Crook, Oconee county man who instituted habeas corpus proceedings and secured his release with the order of the court this week, Governor Harvey says:

"The highest judicial authority, the supreme court of the state, has reversed the status of the parole system has been defined. The interpretation of the law as thus decreed is the law and is to be obeyed and respected by all. It is well that the state has unequivocally declared its mind. It is surprising that a matter affecting the liberty of people and the authority of the executive has been so long left unsettled. It means that the parole system, as understood for all these years, will practically be abandoned. The system of parole, as previously understood, should be abandoned. The system of parole, as previously understood, should be abandoned. The system of parole, as previously understood, should be abandoned.

The word "parole" will hardly be used by executives in future acts of clemency. These already "paroled" men will be only beneficiaries of the decision."

Friends Agail.

An inquisitive old lady was always asking her minister questions. One day the persistent lady asked, "After a while you married, what is the difference between Cherubim and Seraphim?" The minister thought deeply for a minute or two and then replied, "The difference is that a cherub is a madman, but they have made it up."—The Christian Advocate (New York).

South.

Everywhere after cooperative marketing gets well under way, the crop mortgage problem becomes less and less serious. This is true for two reasons: (1) Farmers are helped and encouraged to get on a cash basis, so that fewer crop mortgages are necessary. (2) Bankers and merchants become convinced of the soundness of cooperative marketing and are perfectly willing to accept crop mortgages with the full understanding that the crop will be sold through the cooperative and time allowed for making payments from the cooperative association's regular schedule of payments.

Next year every cooperative marketing association should make an effort to have its entire territory find out which bankers and merchants are willing to accept crop mortgages with the provision that sales will be made through the association, and then both the cooperative marketing association and the individual signers should as far as possible turn all their business to such bankers and merchants. The cooperating farmers are fighting for credit, while both the cooperative marketing association and the individual signers should as far as possible turn all their business to such bankers and merchants.

Still another possibility is that as cooperative marketing associations become better financed, they may themselves make spring and summer advances on crop mortgages whenever suitable endorsements are offered.—Progressive Farmer.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 28.

The custom of pardoning criminals has done a great deal to lessen the respect that men have for the law. There is a very narrow margin within which the pardoning power may be operative and how benefit to society. When its scope is widened it becomes a tool of the politician and the means of leading men to take the law into their own hands. This was at one time notably true in the state of South Carolina, and in every state there are particular cases in which influences other than a love for justice determines the length of time which a criminal shall serve, even when he is convicted through the process of an impartial administration of the law.

One of the illusions of youth is that men get what they deserve, and that virtue brings its own reward. It is in small degree determined by the influences which he has the ability to wield upon those who make the reaching of goals possible. This is too often true in the history of crime. It has long been recognized that rich malefactors are hard to punish, that social standing plays a part in softening the blows which justice delivers, and it may even be claimed that there are certain brands of crime which the authorities have a tendency to condone. Prominent among these is the lawlessness of the moonshiner. This is partly accounted for by the love that some have for whiskey, and their consequent regard of the prohibition law as unjust. It has taken a long time to get as severe a sentence as penal servitude for the bootlegger, and any man who would make his life easier is an enemy of the enforcement of the law.

KEEPING YOUNG.

When you are 39 years old, do you think you will be active enough to be a traveling salesman, working eight hours a day? That's what B. C. Ball is doing, at 39. He is an active book salesman, covering Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky. He is out on the road year-round, except five weeks at Christmas time, when he spends at his home in Indianapolis.

Ball is the father of 14 children. He has been a traveling salesman for 70 years, but is not yet thinking of retiring.

Old age comes too soon, to most of us. Ball, however, says it is easy to "keep young." Here is his formula:

"Keep the mind young and the body will stay young, barring the development of maladies to which all flesh is heir. I'm an old man, but I do not let it worry me. If I did, I'd be in a wheel chair, wearing a nightcap. Too many men start aging at 40. They start kidding themselves that they are old. They dodge strenuous recreation on the grounds that they are old, and in a short time they ARE old."

The more we talk to cheerful old people, like Mr. Ball, the more it becomes apparent that youth of the spirit and mind is what counts, rather than youth of the body.

Inevitably our bodies wear out, just as leaves fall from the trees in autumn. One is less spry as the years slip by, and weights become heavier to lift and distances longer to walk.

But if we think young thoughts and keep in touch with the young folks, old age never will come to us mentally and spiritually. Old age, like youth, is largely a state of mind.

Great Falls News Items

Great Falls, Nov. 27.—A number of the young folks of Great Falls, including the ladies from the teachers' dormitory, and Mrs. E. H. Hall, enjoyed an old fashioned pound party Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Stoll, a few miles out of town. A profusion of white hyacinths and evergreens were attractively used throughout the house. Old fashioned games and fortune telling by Miss Pearl Collier in Gipsy costume were first enjoyed, then a secret ballot was taken for the prettiest young lady and the handsomest man present.

Miss Louise Barron received the compliment of the ladies' vote, and was crowned Queen of Beauty by Mrs. W. W. Pyle. Harold G. Harrison received a majority of votes for the men. Sapper was served cafeteria style at a late hour, and here too the "old time" was suggested, both in abundance and quality. A combination of both being exhibited in a large cake which had been decorated by Miss Julia Nickols, a cluster of gardenias and calla lilies and border of lace fringes, all done in real icing. The entire program was thoroughly enjoyed and Mr. and Mrs. Stoll proved themselves to be delightful entertainers. Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mebane, Mr. and Mrs. K. H. White, and Mrs. A. I. Peeler, are at Black River Lodge this week for duck and turkey shooting. Mr. E. E. McMillan of Knoxville, Tenn., has also been one of the party.

Rev. Yody Benayman, of Columbia, delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture Sunday morning in the auditorium of the school building, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Benayman is a native Persian, was educated at Columbia College, graduating from that institution in 1906, and since that time has been a missionary in his native land until forced, by conditions brought about by the recent war, to abandon the work there for the present.

Miss Carrie Wren McCalla spent several days the past week with her sister, Mrs. E. A. Ferris, at Dearborn Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Mebane and daughter, Miss Bert Mebane, of Greensboro, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. B. Mebane and family, and will be in Great Falls until after Thanksgiving.

Sentenced To Electric Chair.

William C. Farley, white, little more than sixty years of age, was convicted of murder, without recommendation, in York Saturday and was sentenced to be electrocuted on Wednesday, December 29th, Judge Pennington.

It will be recalled that Farley murdered four people, two of them mere children, at Clover on September 6th, last. The murder attracted attention throughout the entire country. It was stated that his plea would be insanity, but no expert testimony was offered to this effect. He stated that after the first shot he did not remember what happened, but on cross examination by Solicitor Spears he told them of murdering all the victims.

Farley was represented by Attorneys McDow, of York, and Cole L. Bleake, of Columbia, neither of which asked for the acquittal of their client but pleaded for his life. The jury was out less than two hours.

LOCALS

The many friends of Miss Chae Caldwell, of Edgemoor, will be glad to know that she was recently awarded first honor in a piano contest given at Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., last February. There were twenty-seven colleges represented, each having three contestants. Papers were examined individually by seven of the United States' best music directors. Miss Caldwell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Caldwell, of Edgemoor, and is now a student at Winthrop College.

Thanksgiving services will be held at St. Mark's Episcopal church Thursday morning at eleven o'clock. Dr. Flournoy Shepperson, pastor of Purity Presbyterian church, will do the preaching. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Chester postoffice will observe a Holiday Thursday. The delivery windows will be open from nine until ten o'clock. The city carriers will make no delivery. There will be no service on the various rural routes.

REVIVAL DRAWS CROWDS.

The Evangelistic Society will hold at the service tonight at the Baldwin Mills.

The people of Chester are extended a most cordial invitation to attend the revival services, being conducted under a large tent at the Baldwin Mills. The seating capacity of this tent is about 1200.

Mr. Creech is well known in this section having spent his boyhood days near Chester. He is said to be an exemplar of ability and power in speaking, having conducted great meetings in different sections of the state.

Mr. Morris has begun his second year as Conference Evangelist of the Upper South Carolina Conference. He has experienced success in his work both in preaching and singing. He will conduct the music and the opening devotional services during the revival.

At each service the attendance has been large and those in attendance have expressed themselves not only as delighted with the forceful messages of the evangelist and the inspiring revival songs of the large chorus choir and sweet and soul-stirring singing of the Junior choir of about 100 voices, but, also highly pleased with the comfortable seating and flooring of this well heated tent. Members of all churches are joining in the services. The tent given at Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., last February. There were twenty-seven colleges represented, each having three contestants. Papers were examined individually by seven of the United States' best music directors. Miss Caldwell is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Caldwell, of Edgemoor, and is now a student at Winthrop College.

Furman's Sons Show Loyalty.

Furman men of Spartanburg, Union and Cherokee counties, meeting for a banquet in Spartanburg Saturday night, November 18th, in honor of Furman football team, staged one of the most momentous gatherings of sons of Furman ever held in this section of the state. The outstanding feature of the rally was the adoption of a resolution calling upon alumni of the college to raise a fund of not less than $100,000 and present it to the alma mater in offering of a resolution calling for endorsement on the occasion of the celebration in 1926 of the centennial of the Baptist institution.

In offering an enthusiastic second to the resolution, B. T. Earle, well known financier of Spartanburg, pledged $1,000 as his personal contribution to the fund. Several other men of wealth present stated that they would be ready with their checks when the time came to raise the fund.

PASSENGER AGENT EXPLAINS.

Seaboard's Reason For Changing Schedule—Coach On Express Train.

In a recent letter to the Chamber of Commerce Mr. W. L. McMorris, general passenger agent, Seaboard Air Line, explains why it is necessary to change schedule of through train No. 6 from 7:15 P. M. to 5:58 P. M. Passenger service has been inaugurated on express train No. 48, effective today, in order to give better service for the traveling public. This train arrives at Chester at 8:48 P. M.

Mr. McMorris in his letter has this to say:

"We hope that the above arrangement will be entirely satisfactory to our Chester friends and patrons, and we are sorry indeed that the change in schedule of our No. 6 has caused any inconvenience. The principal reason for advancing our schedule was to give improved through service with earlier arrival at Washington and New York, and more convenient hour for receiving through passengers at the principal stations on our line north of Monroe and Hazlet. You can now leave Chester on our No. 6 at 3:58 P. M. arriving Washington 7:35 A. M. and New York at 1:30 P. M. While heretofore you did not arrive at Washington until 10:35 A. M. and New York at 4:30 P. M."

DARTKOWN NEIGHBORS.

One of the big numbers in J. A. Coburn's Minstrels at the Chester Opera House on Tuesday night, December 5, is an old time colored shuffie party and characteristic Low Cabin scene entitled "Dartkown Neighbors," in which the comedy element of the company is given an opportunity to rejuvenate the gala traits of mirth, melody and temperance oddities, peculiar to the old days. Dan Holt the Georgia Cotton Blossom whose home in Macon, Ga., made him familiar with these festivities as sponsor for the details and production of this comedy halcyon number, and its said to be a most creditable innovation strictly in line with enjoyable minstrelsy. Of Mammy Lou, mischievous pickaninny, colored bellows and shuffie coons vie in harmony for a royal good time. Seats on sale at the Chester Drug Store.

INJURING THE HEART.

By Bries Belden, M. D.
An Association for the prevention and relief of heart disease in New York declares that one worker out of every 50 has been found to have a serious heart defect. One out of every 50 applicants for life insurance is rejected because of a serious heart defect.

About 155,000 persons die annually in the United States from heart disease. While the efficiency of many of the survivors is more or less reduced.

The infectious diseases, particularly rheumatism, play a considerable part in the causation of heart disease. Systematic inquiry into the cause reveal many and varied factors. What are known as the poison habits doubtless have much to do with heart damage.

The excessive use of alcohol, tobacco, tea and coffee has to be reckoned with. That which may be grateful and wholesome when used in moderation may become a baneful drug when used immoderately.

It is perhaps significant that there has been no increase in disease of this character in Great Britain in recent years, while in this country there has been a great increase—significant when one considers there has been no increase in the consumption of tobacco in Great Britain, where the annual average consumption remains at four pounds, while in this country the average consumption has risen to the enormous figure of seven and a half pounds per capita per annum.

THE S. M. JONES CO., Chester, S. C.

GENTLEMEN—I am pleased to advise you that Rochette's Pioneer Fancy No. 400984, has just completed a 365 day Register of Merit Test, with the following results:

9193.3 lbs. Milk. 624.89 lbs.—85 per ct. Butter

This record makes her the Senior Three-year old Champion for the State of Louisiana.

We began using your Purina Cow Chow about October 1st, 1921, having started this cow on a home milk ration. We immediately saw better results, and used Cow Chow right along, until we were induced to try "something better, and at a much cheaper price." Her production went down nearly a gallon a day, and we were unable to recover this loss until we put her back on Cow Chow. Since that time, she has been fed Cow Chow exclusively, and given as much as 18 pounds per day. She was never off feed during the entire test.

I do not hesitate to say that Cow Chow is the best dairy ration we have ever used, and we're tired of milking, and while the price per ton is a little higher than most other rations, I can readily see now, that it is well worth a great deal more than the majority of them, and its genuine qualities are long remembered after the price is forgotten.

I take pleasure in recommending Purina Cow Chow to any dairyman or individual, who is looking for real production, better feeding, and good condition of their cows.

Yours very truly,

FRED B. BROCK-Herdman.

A dispatch published in the daily newspapers of today states that Gaffney and Rock Hill football teams will meet in Gastonia, Thanksgiving in the upper State championship. A message received in Chester last night from Prof. W. C. Taylor, superintendent of the Gaffney school, advised that Gaffney would play Rock Hill until the eighth of December. Rock Hill players were threatened out, according to the information received in Chester. Mr. Taylor is calling for a meeting of the executive committee to be held in Columbia Friday at which time the eligibility of the players will be handled and if the matter is settled at that time Gaffney will arrange to play Rock Hill on Saturday. Chester has extended Mr. Taylor's invitation to play Rock Hill in Chester.

Supt. J. D. Fulp of Abbeville has notified the Rock Hill High School football team to arrange to play the Gaffney team on Thanksgiving Day, if possible. Representatives of the two schools will probably get together this afternoon and work out the details. The winner of this contest will play either Thorswall Orphanage or House Path for the up-State championship. It is not known yet where this game will be played, but arrangements will be made by Tuesday. Rock Hill Record.

Mr. W. F. Marion, cotton statistician for Chester county, reports that 16,782 bales of cotton ginned in Chester county until November 14th, this year, as compared with 16,782 the same period last year. This represents a reduction for the same period of 5,796 bales.

Football fans of Chester, called up the sports writer of The Enquirer yesterday afternoon to say that they were not satisfied with the action of the football committee of the State High school association, which had declined to declare Douglas Nims of Rock Hill high ineligible on the ground that he had received pay for engaging in basketball games. According to the Chester people they presented the committee with sworn affidavits to the effect that Nims was paid $10 a week to play with Fort Mill several weeks in 1921, and that he was paid $7 for playing a game in Fort Mill on July 4, of this year. He was stated further that Chester people were considering the idea of requesting the committee to reopen the case relative to Nims. Yorkville Enquirer.

Rock Hill High defeated Spartanburg High in a one-sided game of football on the Rock Hill grounds Saturday, the score being 45 to 0. Those in this section had been led to believe that Spartanburg had a good team this year but their showing on the Rock Hill grounds Saturday put them in a lower class than the majority of the teams making up the Catawba Association. In fact, with possibly three exceptions, we doubt if Spartanburg could take a game from any of the teams of the Catawba Association. In a game with Gaffney which was played recently, Spartanburg lost that team by a score of 3 to 0. This would indicate that Gaffney has let her last year's team go to play with the team from Spartanburg had in Rock Hill Saturday would stand a poor chance before Gaffney's last year's team. Spartanburg only had six substitutes Saturday and was called upon to use four of them. They only tried one line play during the entire game.

In a game of football played at Lakeland, Fla., Saturday, the Citadel defeated Southern College by a score of 55 to 0. George White, of Chester, is captain of the Citadel. In mentioning the game a dispatch from Lakeland says in part, "Captain White, the visitors quarterback was the fastest player here on a Florida gridiron this season."

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the A. R. P. Church will have Miss Minnie Alexander of India to address them at their annual giving Rally on Wednesday evening, November 29th, at 7:30 at the A. R. P. church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Chester and Chester county people will be pleased to learn that Captain's Minstrel show will again be at the Chester Opera House on next Tuesday night, December 5th. Mr. Coburn is well known in Chester and has many personal friends here who are always glad to know his show is coming. Mr. Coburn has been coming to Chester for many years and, as is generally known, he always brings a good show. Mr. Coburn has never failed Chester and The News would advise the people to buy their seats early. It will be recalled that many people wanted seats last year but were unable to get them on account of the house having been sold out. Don't delay getting your seat—get them early so that you will be assured a good seat. The seats will be on sale at the Chester Drug Store Friday morning. Reserved seats $1.50; dress circle $1.00; parterre 50 cents, plus water tax. Mail orders now, accompanied by check.

The Chester High school football team will go to Shelby, N. C. Thanksgiving where they will play the crack Shelby team. The game will be called at two o'clock. As is generally known, Shelby has a very consistent team this year and only recently played Monroe three games before either of the teams were eliminated from the contest. The local boys are, of course, hoping to defeat Shelby but they realize that if they do a hard fight must be waged. An effort was made to get a game on the local grounds but those in charge were unable to land one. Shelby offered the local boys $150 and expenses to come to Shelby, which is a very nice offer. The Chester boys will leave for Shelby tomorrow afternoon and will be entertained by the Shelby boys.

One Reason For Mounting Sales

Hupmobile reliability, dashing performance, long life, low costs, these are all important reasons for the unprecedented sales records which the Hupmobile is making.

There is another reason, even more important.

Owners of cars whose first cost is less, find that they can obtain much more motor car economy and enjoyment in the Hupmobile for a slightly higher original price.

Owners of higher priced cars are discovering that the Hupmobile gives them all the practical advantages that costlier cars can give.

Don't Be Surprised

You should not be surprised if your light bill is more in winter than it is in summer when you consider how much more you burn your lamps when the days are short and the nights are long.

In the summer you seldom turn on your lights before 7:30 at night while in winter it becomes necessary to turn them on about 5:30 so you can readily see if you keep them on till 9:30 on an average the year round you have used twice the amount of current in winter that you do in summer.

Then let's consider that it takes more current in winter to keep electrical appliances to their correct temperature.

When we take into consideration these facts we feel that our customers will understand why their light bills will run higher in winter than in summer.

MANAGE YOURSELF.

A great singer, who has to spend about eighteen hours a day taking care of his health and his voice, which are his capital, needs a manager, and has one.

A great actor, whose every minute is required to continue being a great actor, also needs a manager. We take it that you are neither a great singer nor a great actor, because you belong to the vast majority of human beings.

Therefore, while you need a manager, too, you don't need to hire one. You can be your own.

This is true, whether you are your own boss, or what the socialists call a wage slave.

If you are a wage slave you will to some extent have to submit to the management of the man who is set over you. But he can only manage you in working hours, and he can't manage your mind at all. And it is your mind, and the way it is managed, that will make or break you before you get through.

Take over that job yourself, if it is an unenviable one, make it law-abiding. If it is a roving mind, given to wandering over all sorts of subjects when it ought to be confined to one, discipline it.

Keep it on the job it ought to be doing. Teach it to concentrate and make it practice this new accomplishment.

If it is a lazy mind, force it to work and to work hard. If it objects and acts as if it might crack under the strain, don't worry about it. Keep it working and it will soon learn to do its work without getting fagged. While you are managing your mind, manage your body, too. Make it control its appetites, and take solid baths, and tackle hard work without flinching.

Don't let it overeat or neglect to get plenty of sleep, or do any of the foolish things that bodies will do if they are permitted to have their own way.

Mind and body well managed will soon be worth more to your boss and, consequently, more to you. If your boss won't pay the extra value, get another boss; but be sure first that the extra value is there. It is easy to think you are worth more than you are, and to underestimate the boss' judgment in that respect.

After you have been managing yourself for a while you will know how to manage others. Then, when you get a change, you will be able to improve it. You will find the job difficult at first, but pleasant and profitable afterward. Try it and see if this isn't true.

A gasoline substitute, made from precisely pure juice and mixed with other chemicals, has shown remarkable results. It is known as "Springbok" motor spirit, and is made in South Africa.

THOUSAND MILES OF ROAD WILL BE BUILT NEXT YEAR

States to Twenty Million Dollars Will Be Expended in the Building—Two Thousand Miles Contracted for in 1922. Most Ambitious Highway Program of Any State in the Union.

Advancing with its program of highway construction, which is said to be the largest of any state in the Union, the North Carolina Highway Commission next year will place under contract from 800 to 1,000 miles of road building at an estimated cost of $18,000,000 to $20,000,000 according to an announcement by State Highway Engineer Charles M. Upham.

This action will follow the state's contract for 2,000 miles in 1921. It was stated: Over one-half of this mileage was for hard surface— asphalt or concrete—and during the present year 800 miles have been completed.

In 1923, the commission expects to finish 50 per cent more roads than during 1922. Construction has been delayed here by nation-wide strikes and bad weather at the beginning of the year, said Mr. Upham. The commission has recovered from this delay, he added, and "with highly organized forces working on a carefully planned schedule" will be in a position to move forward at a greater pace next year.

As indication of the progress now being made, figures were cited showing 60 miles of paved roads and 120 of other types already have been completed this month. A survey of the work shows almost every principal city in the state with a network of improved highways, either completed, under construction or under contract.

The Winston-Salem-Charlotte-Asheville highway already has many miles of hard surface, while the main trunk of the central highway, which runs from New Bern to Murphy.

From Charlotte to the South Carolina line, there is a completed paved highway. Roads from Charlotte to Lincolnton, Charlotte to Concord, Charlotte to Gastonia, Charlotte to Statesville and other portions under construction. The highway from Raleigh to Durham to Greensboro and other cities also is far advanced, with paving still underway, as are the projects in the vicinity of Statesville, Winston-Salem and Lenoir.

The commission, according to the state engineer, is constructing the so-called "Progressive Types of Highways." Traffic demands determine the kind of road built. The first is the "grading and drainage type." When traffic becomes great for this kind of highway, it is surfaced with selected soil and maintained for traffic as a sub-grade road. The third type is the hard surface placed on the road which already has been prepared for this step through previous work.

In following this plan, the state does not expend any of its bond funds except for permanent construction, it was asserted. North Carolina's program is being pushed on a recent $50,000,000 loan, federal and county funds. A $15,000,000 bond issue to continue the work will be placed before the general assembly in January for consideration, it has been stated in official circles.

WILL RESUME PROBE OF DOUBLE MURDER

Many Witnesses Yet to Be Heard by New Jersey Jury—Mrs. Gibson Today.

Bismarck, N. J. Nov. 26.—The grand jury will resume its investigation of the double murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, his wife, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, official sources declared the investigation will be resumed tomorrow night at the latest and that the jury's final action would be made known before Thanksgiving day.

About 15 witnesses remain to be called. The three considered by the authorities to be the most important probably will be heard tomorrow. These are Mrs. Jane Gibson, pig raiser, who has told the authorities that she witnessed the slaying of the Rev. and the choir leader, and Louisa Geist and Barbara. Tough maids in the Hall home at New Brunswick. Other witnesses subpoenaed include prominent members of the slain rector's congregation of the Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist.

It became known tonight that members of the grand jury had visited the Phillips farm, scene of the murders, since the first half of the investigation was adjourned Wednesday.

SIMMONS OPPOSED TO NEW LOAN TO LIBERIA

Declares Money Not to Be Used in Connection With Any World War Purpose.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Opposition to the Liberian loan was made in the senate today by Senator Simmons. He declared this country has neither a moral nor legal obligation to make the loan, and declared Liberia did not comply with conditions laid down during the war.

"The Liberty loan act, of course," he said, "expired with the formal declaration of peace, and it was long after that date that Secretary Hughes, of the republican administration, undertook to make a new agreement within Liberia for the lending of the money which the republican administration now wishes to lend."

Senator Simmons added that the fact that the administration now comes to Congress for legislation showing that it does not have the authority to make the loan. He contended that between Secretary Hughes and the Liberian government the money is to be used to pay off certain old debts contracted in 1912, which Liberia owes to J. P. Morgan.

Every time a woman spends a dollar for goods made outside the Carolinas as a substitute for goods made within the state, she weakens just that much the possible advancement of her husband.

Only a relative small number of us have enough to live on without active daily labor. The balance of us work regularly, for upon our personal effort depends our monthly pay check or our semi-annual dividend.

A woman is not justifying her name of good house-keeper if she pays more money for a home-made article than she would have to pay for something made elsewhere. Nor will she be justified in buying an inferior article for the same money she would have to pay for a superior piece of goods made outside the Carolinas.

But a patriotic housewife's duty to her state is to know of her own knowledge that she can not buy a home-made article of the same value for the same money that she must pay for the foreign-made merchandise.

When the women of the Carolinas look their dealer straight in the eye over the counter and demand to be shown the home-made products, he may not have them, but if enough women join in this work, he will get them.

A dealer sells what his customers want. Some of them are committed by contract or agency or personal preference to certain widely known products and may be slow to change. But they will change quickly enough when they see that the buyers have become open marketeers.

Ask your dealer to show you a garment, or a kitchen utensil, or an article of food, or equipment for the farm, that has the Carolinas brand on it. If he does not happen to have it, step around the corner and get a price from the other man.

If it is a good article and you buy it, the next time you call your regular dealer will have it in stock.

He is in business to please you, and you both are in the business of making the Carolinas greater and more prosperous.

A Wish

"I HAVE TAKEN Cardui for run-down, worn-out condition, nervousness and sleeplessness, and I was weak too," says Mrs. Silvie Estes, of Jennings, Okla. "Cardui did me just lots of good—so much that I gave it to my daughter. She complained of a soreness in her sides and back. She took three bottles of Cardui and her condition was much better."

"We have lived here, near Jennings, for 26 years, and now we have our own home in town. I have had to work pretty hard, as this country wasn't built up, and it made it hard on us."

"I WISH I could tell weak women of Cardui—the medicine that helped give me the strength to go on and do my work." This card fulfills her wish.
